People don't understand the creative process, if most everything we do isn't re-enactment of some memory or previous experience.

It is not turned off and on like a light switch or punched like a time clock or at instant command like some TV demonstration of spark plug power.

The process must be galvanized. In this society, it is more likely to be galvanized over.

111-111-111

This is Volume 111, No. 1. There will be 104 Heralds this year, the first such in the newspaper's history.

The Herald once was sandwiched between issues of the "Daily Midget", which came out the size of a man's handkerchief some years, the size of a sub-tabloid newspaper a couple of years before going out of print in fall, 1955.

The Herald often was a composite of previous issues of the Daily Midget, the premise being the Herald was a rural newspaper and the Midget for daily consumption of newsstand readers.

The premise was shaky. It seems to us the people in Milam County were as interested in things in print today as the people in Cameron.

Each issue is distinct and new, and in this day that is an explanation which should be unnecessary.

It seems to me that newspaper policy may have been general practice a generation ago, going with the idea that each community and each county more or less was walled in. Of course, there exists no such barriers today, though distance still can be a comfortable margin from the rapid changes in the metropolitan areas.

JP Rules Suicide In Death Here

Mrs. Hazel Rankin, 64, was found dead from a shotgun wound through her head at 12:30 p.m. Monday.

Justice of the Peace Jess Brock ruled the death a suicide. Mrs. Rankin was found by her husband in the garage behind their home at 101 S. Karnes St. He told Sheriff Carl Black that he had gone to town at his wife's request, and found her dead when he returned home.

Sheriff Black said the weapon used was a 12-gauge shotgun. One shell had been fired from the fully loaded double barrel gun.

The Sheriff said members of Mrs. Rankin's family told him she had been ill for some time. Funeral service for Mrs. Rankin was held at 2 p.m. Wednesday in the chapel of Marek-Burns Funeral Home, the Rev. J. E. Lafferty officiating. Burial was in Walkers Creek Cemetery.

City Drops Landfill Plan

Plans for a sanitary landfill site at Wilson-Ledbetter Park were abandoned by the City Tuesday night after a group of 15 residents of the area protested the plan to the City Council.

At their regular meeting City Council also heard more about dogs, and discussed hiring a replacement for Streets Supt. J. B. Earle whose resignation is effective April 1.

Mayor E. A. Perrin explained to the group that one of the factors emphasized by the State in recommending the landfill waste disposal method is that it gives cities opportunities to improve parks and vacant lots.

Mayor Perrin quoted reports from sanitary superintendents in four cities - Georgetown, Taylor, Belton, and Hearne - that are using the method within city limits.

The City had picked the two and one-half acre site on the west boundary of Ledbetter Park for waste disposal using the landfill method, until the low ground was leveled and beautified.

But, as Mayor Perrin said ruefully to the group, "I keep calling it sanitary landfill, and you all keep calling it the city dump."

Arguments marshaled against the plan included trash blowing out of the trench before it was covered; dogs and varmints attracted to the site that could trace to the site to children and livestock; and seepage of water from the area into the park's lake and wells in the area.

C. R. Law was spokesman for the residents. He asked the Council to reconsider using the site and suggested advertising for landowners who want low areas or gullies filled.

Questions were asked about danger to the public swimming pool and about the odor. Mayor Perrin said there was no danger to the pool, no odor, and that it was his understanding that the lake has long been considered contaminated.

Councilman R. W. Wells said the City has been considering landfill sites for about six months, and emphasized that the proposal was for beautification of the area. He asked if the residents were willing to let the City work a week or two and quit if it was objectionable.

"Would any of the Council like this in their back yard?" asked

Mrs. Edith Barron, who lives near the park.

The Mayor and Councilmen told the group it was not their intention that anyone should be hurt by actions of the City, and if they objected to the proposal, it would not be forced on them.

In other business, hiring a dog catcher was urged in view of continuing complaints about stray dogs. City Atty. Ed Magre said the City's ordinance provides a fine against dog owners who violate the leash law.

Eight applications were received for the position of Street and Sanitation Supt., which will be open April 1. Council will interview applicants next week.

Councilman Lester Turner, at the request of School Board member Forrest Sapp, asked if the City ever had a law prohibiting soldiers in Cameron. Turner said Sapp was concerned about school girls.

"It would be difficult for this Council to legislate against human nature," Councilman R. L. Clark observed.

Council noted that some local establishments had been "off-limits" to military personnel at one time, but no law exists prohibiting military men from coming to Cameron.

The Cameron Chamber of Commerce and merchants in Buckholts, Thorndale, Rockdale, and Cameron sponsor 4-H and FFA members by donating 50 chicks to each participant.

The baby chicks are raised for eight weeks and the five best broilers are entered in the May 16 broiler show. An awards banquet follows the show, this year with Hilliard Thomas, local banker, as guest speaker.

Hope Lutherans Dedicate Building

Hope Lutheran Church at Buckholts will hold a dedication service Sunday, March 22 at 10:15 a.m. for its newly constructed educational unit.

The Rev. H. C. Ziehe of Taylor will be guest speaker and the pastor, Rev. Ernie E. Braun, will serve as liturgist. There will be open house in the afternoon from 3 to 5.

The air conditioned, centrally heated brick building features a large assembly room, eight classrooms, a library, restrooms, and complete kitchen facilities. All interior walls are paneled in ash.

In the two years the new facilities have been in planning, the congregation has raised nearly $22,000, leaving less than $16,000 needed to liquidate its debt.

Church members have contributed most of the furnishings including drapes, bulletin boards, chalk boards, chairs, water fountain, clock, and altar.

Members of the building committee include Arnold Jungmann, Johnny Fuchs, W. A. Persky, Mrs. Arnett Zelisko, Mrs. Kenneth Springer, and Mrs. Alvin Fuchs.

School For Drivers In Session

A Drivers License School will be held at 7 p.m. three evenings this week, March 17, 18 and 20, at the Ada Henderson cafeteria, for persons who need instruction before taking an examination for a drivers license. Highway Patrolman Milton Wright announced Monday.

The school is sponsored by the Evening Lions Club of Cameron in co-operation with the Department of Public Safety. Wright said it will be a two hour session on each of the three evenings. There will be no charge.

Two DPS officers, Sgt. Imboden of Waco, and Patrolman Tippit of Hearne, will conduct the school and give instruction in various phases of the course. Wright said Monday morning that about 30 persons had applied to attend the school.

The school will not only familiarize persons applying for a drivers license with all necessary regulations, but will also aid persons with reading difficulties. The course will cover the various highway signs and markers and how to distinguish them. An oral examination will be given at the conclusion of the course.

The Drivers License School is an outgrowth of Governor Preston Smith's campaign to increase driving safety on Texas highways and is being sponsored by various civic groups and organizations. It is in line with his new safety slogan - "Drive Friendly."

TRIC CHARGED IN ROBBERY

Three young Cameron men were arrested in Buckholts Saturday night and charged in Milam County Court with robbery.

All three, Mike Maddox, Kenneth Ray Teal, and Leland Lyles, have records of previous arrests and two were on probation, according to Sheriff Carl Black.

A Houston youth picked up on Highway 36 near Buckholts Saturday evening by Highway Patrolmen reported that he had been robbed of about $80. He said three young men picked him up in Temple, offering him a ride to Houston, and put him out of the car near Buckholts after robbing him.

Buckholts Constable John Zajicek arrested the trio for causing a disturbance in a Buckholts dance hall Saturday night. They were identified by the Houston youth as the men who robbed him.

Will Double City's 50 In Construction

Cameron Housing Authority officials have requested an additional 100 low-rent units for Cameron. The request would double the number of units in the cities federal housing project.

The original housing project contained 50 units on two sites. Thirty-six units located at 20th and Washington and 14 units on East 12th Street.

Fifty additional units are now under construction at a cost of over $750,000.

Fourteen regular family units of two and three bedrooms are being built at the east side of the 20th and North Washington project. Thirty-six duplex units for the elderly are under construction in a 3 1/2 block area north of Newton Memorial Hospital. Also being built at this site is a community building which will be part of the housing project.

Fred Starnes, executive director of the Cameron Housing Authority, said the City Council approved the request for additional units following recommendation of the local Housing Authority. He said completed units are filled and requests for space in the 50 units now under construction are far in excess of space available.

"We are simply laying the ground work for the future," Starnes said. He pointed out that the units now under construction had been applied for more than 4 years ago.

Starnes said no sites for additional units had been discussed.

Judge Roy Bean Stars In Skit By Jr. High Students

Cameron Junior High School students presented a skit depicting an early Texas figure, Judge Roy Bean, "the law west of the Pecos," for Cameron Delphin Club Tuesday.

The skit was written by the students under the direction of Miss Mary Belle Batte. Students in the skit included Andrea Matula, Debbie Bryant, Patricia Trubee, and Linda Hughes. Scenery was by Brenda Gilbert and Robin Simmons.

An added feature on the program was a selection of minutes played on woodwinds by Yoe High School band students.

SIGNS OF SPRING - "The temperature may not show it, but the flowers know it" as shown by this tree at N. Travis and Fifth Streets. It is blooming in two colors, red and pink. Black and white photography can't show the striking beauty of the blooms, which is drawing much attention from passersby.

They Talk . . . We Write . . .

Officials from time to time ask The Herald's co-operation on newsbreaks, not stopping the reportage, but timing it until additional information becomes available.

When the public interest is served by a delay, such co-operation is possible if our judgment so concludes.

The Cameron School Board often has asked the co-operation on timing reports which are beginning to develop news of public interest. But board members, Councilmen, county commissioners know our interest is their interest which is the public interest and they should not lean too much on our good nature.

Public officials sometime need time to develop a move in the public interest and premature speculation can hurt the long run public interest. But often, it is the concern of the public officials about reaction to actions than it is in the public interest they ask delay.

We are advised that a figure in the NOW column of March 16, a figure quoted by Supt. D. R. Dodson was a gross figure, meaning the figure $63,000 he used during a discussion on quality work in classroom, which he said, showed "good management." He said it was a bit more than the same time a year ago, including a 20 percent increment on school cost increase.

The figure was given in round terms, not explained. And this is a case in point. Statements or figures not fully explained at the time of presentation are made, then asked to be held for later publication or asked to be explained after they are published as they are presented, off the cuff.

It comes back to the only premise on which the newspaper can rely. If the statement is made in public, and is considered of general importance in coverage of the public meeting, it should be assumed it will be in print.

People vs. Pollution . . .

Never underestimate citizen power in the fight for a good environment. A few years ago Mrs. Clark Kerr, wife of the then president of the University of California, and two friends became alarmed over plans to fill in part of San Francisco Bay. They alerted conservation organizations and wrote 700 letters. They got 600 replies, many containing contributions -- a spectacular return from a mail campaign -- and, thus encouraged, organized the Save San Francisco Bay Assn. The movement they helped start and perpetuate has won important court and legislative battles and has brought a new deal in conservation to the entire Bay Area. Fortune magazine tells the

Even when some unimportant items are deleted from news-coverage, the statements are quoted verbally by visitors, even by other officials after the statement in the meeting.

It demonstrates the power of print, its finality and credibility. Public officials should realize they can't really ask a publication to contain information they have reviewed at length in a public meeting. If they want an executive session, that is what they should call.

Dodson's point on the $63,000 after it was quoted is that it would not be a balance necessarily left after expenses of the remaining fiscal year 1970 are spent.

Carry-over funds not committed to debt retirement or other pledged accounts have averaged about $25,000 to $30,000 the past two fiscal years. It is likely the $63,000 figure will be about $30,000 at the end of this fiscal year.

It is said some of that surplus would hopefully be used for a homemaking department.

The NOW column urged the raw figure of $63,000 be used in better classroom teaching programs. So the net figure, which we now approximately know, would be less. This column joins NOW in suggesting that the balance, whatever it is, be used for better classroom instruction.

We co-operate by explaining the figure thrown out during last week's school board meeting. It is reasonable to expect, from the discussion on classroom quality in the system, that much of that balance go into counseling and teacher programming which will be less bureaucratic and more academic.

Finally, we ask public officials not to say something about legitimate public issues they do not explain or wish they had not said, once said. They talk. We write.

Industrial Development Earns State No. 1 Rating

By Vern Sanford

AUSTIN

With a total of 901 new plants, Texas has earned No. 1 rating among the states in industrial development for 1969--first time in its history.

Gov. Preston Smith announced that Dun and Bradstreet Corporation, in a report published by the Fortune Magazine marketing research staff, bestowed the recognition.

Number of new plants in Texas last year exceeded California's by 42 per cent, California was in second place.

Texas is the only southwestern state to rank in the top ten of new industrial locations.

Only six other states now exceed Texas' overall total of 15,576 manufacturing plants. Number increased by six per cent during last year.

Smith credited the increase to efforts of the Texas Industrial Commission and "the close-knit alliance between local, regional and state development groups and the partnership of industry and government that we have in Texas to promote a better life for all citizens."

Top ten states invested $7.9 million in programs to attract industry last year, Texas spent only $385,570--or less than five per cent of the total. State's share of the 3,813 new plants nationwide was 24 per cent.

"For an investment of one half the average, Texas has been able to accomplish nearly three times the results," Smith boasted.

Other states among the top ten were Georgia with 609, Illinois with 290, Alabama with 289, Indiana with 240, Florida with 224, Minnesota with 224, Ohio with 212 and North Carolina with 189.

SAFE DRIVING PROGRAM

Governor Smith pledged all the influence and prestige of the governor's office to curb highway traffic accidents.

His "Drive Friendly" program calls for:

- *Operating vehicles responsibly.
- *Obeying all traffic laws.
- *Respecting state and local police officers.
- *Being generous with the right of way.
- *Keeping vehicles in good operating condition.
- *Avoiding driving while unfit (particularly when drinking).

WELFARE

Social Security checks will increase April 1, but many will receive smaller state assistance payments and some will become ineligible for state aid.

Welfare Commissioner Burton G. Hackney said Social Security Act amendments will have this effect on Old Age Assistance: "About 138,500 OAA recipients will receive smaller state checks, although with Social Security increase, income will go up about $4 a month."

*Another 95,500 will get $4 more in state Old Age Assistance.

*About 4,100 will no longer be eligible for state aid. These now receive relatively high Social Security benefits and token state aid.

COURTS SPEAK

State Supreme Court set April 8 to hear arguments on a test case involving the constitutionality of the state law providing tax exemptions for historic buildings and sites.

High Court refused to enjoin the State Democratic Executive Committee from placing Rep. C. L. Ray of Marshall on the ballot as a candidate for associate justice of Texarkana Court of Civil Appeals.

Supreme Court defined rules for paying natural gas production taxes where gas of several producers is collected by a central plant for processing, thus permitting Mobil Oil Corporation to recover nearly $350,000 in taxes paid under protest.

Third Court of Civil Appeals, reversing trial court, concluded that former State Securities Commissioner William King exceeded his authority in banning sales of cosmetics distributorships by Koscot Interplanetary Inc., a Florida-based concern.

Court of Criminal Appeals affirmed the death penalty assessed a 21-year-old Corpus Christi man in the strangulation of an 83-year-old woman in 1965.

AG OPINIONS

A Williamson County Judge was the proper official to receive the election petition and order an election to consolidate Round Rock County Line and Pond Springs Common County Line school districts, Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin has held.

In another recent opinion, Martin said the West Side Calhoun County Navigation District may designate an out-of-county bank depository in an adjoining county.

GRANTS APPROVED

Community Action (federal) grant of $280,779 has been approved for Community Council of Bee County in Beeville for the 12 months which started February 1.

A second $218,826 Community Action grant also was approved for Associated City-County Economic Development Corporation of Hidalgo County, Edinburg.

A $186,463 federal grant to Community Action Corporation of Wichita Falls and North Texas Area cleared earlier as did following:

*Dimmitt Independent School District, $47,954 child development grant.

*Harrison-Panola Counties Action Association Inc., Marshall, $27,000.

CERTIFY BALLOT

Democrat and Republican executive committees certified candidates for their May 2 ballots and mapped plans for party conventions on September 15.

Republicans will take their 4,300-vote convention to Fort Worth, Democrats, with 5,541 delegates, will go to Dallas.

Democrats passed up suggestions to place referendums on busing of school children, daylight saving time and lowering the voting age on their ballot.

OLD PHILOSOPHER

Dear editor:

A neighbor of mine came by yesterday and said he wanted to take me to town to meet a man who has invented something we both could make some money out of, and since I was out of newspapers at the time I agreed to go.

"But first," he said, "you'd better change shirts." "What's the matter, what's wrong with this one?" I asked. "It's got mud and grease all over it."

"So what? Don't you know the Supreme Court has ruled that if a shirt has redeeming social significance it doesn't make any difference if it's dirty?"

But since he insisted this was an important meeting and since there weren't any college kids around to picket me for yielding to the pressures of the establishment, I changed shirts and went with him. A man ought to retain some shred of inner freedom in a world beset with grinding conformity.

You know what, he's on to something big. This man whose name I can't mention until we get his secret patented has invented a brand new remedy and all we need now to clean up is to find a brand new illness it'll cure.

If you'd like to be cut in on it, all you have to do is use your influence if you remember where you left it to get Congress to appropriate some money for some scientific research.

Out there somewhere there's bound to be some undiscovered illness just waiting to be cured by this new remedy, and there are very few television programs that'd be hurt much by adding one more commercial to promote the stuff.

Personally I think it's a great idea. Science has been dragging its feet too long, uncovering new diseases nobody ever heard of before and then spending endless hours trying to find a remedy for them, when the way to do it is to invent the remedy and then go out and find the disease.

I know some people are going to say, aw, you're getting the cart before the horse, but they probably never heard of a car with the engine in the rear or a great man who stood behind a woman.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

We could have stopped here...

or here

But we're still at it!

We may be the only phone company in town but we're not to act like it.

Corn Acreage May Get Boost

By J. D. Moore

Results of a recent meeting in Bryan involving a number of Brazos county farmers, Extension personnel and representatives of a major East Texas broiler integrator firm indicate that considerable increases in corn acreage may develop in the Brazos Valley.

The broiler firm, Halbert's Inc. and Holly Farms of Texas, are presently constructing facilities to produce and process more than 50 million broilers per year by 1972. According to firm representatives, this bird volume will consume a corn acreage of 40-50 thousand acres.

The firm is interested in contractual arrangements for corn production beginning with the 1971 season, provided prices can be reasonably competitive with midwestern corn.

for 1970's. Several pork producers will serve on panels to discuss management practices and sow confinement. Bob Fleming of the Texas Water Quality Board, Austin, will talk on the pollution problem facing the swine industry.

Potential for increasing numbers of pigs at farrowing will be discussed by Dr. D. B. Hudson of the Wilson Agribusiness Company of Oklahoma City. He was formerly Extension swine specialist in Texas.

Dr. T. D. Tanksley of A&M will speak on swine nutrition and Dr. Leland R. Tribble of Texas Tech University will discuss the effects of temperature on pig production. Dr. W. W. Sipple, executive director of the Texas Veterinary Medical Diagnostic Laboratory, will tell of a new service for pork producers in their swine health programs. In addition, W. S. Allen, agricultural engineer for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service will speak on planning ventilation systems for hog houses, a vital part of pork production.

John Fair will give a report on the activities of the Texas Pork Producers Association.

BRUCELLOSIS RATING

Milam County has been designated as a modified certified cattle brucellosis area for the period of February 24, 1970 to September 5, 1972, according to James Henderson, State official for the Texas Animal Health Department.

To be eligible for a modified certified Brucellosis rating the Brucellosis reactor occurrence in county herds must have been reduced to not more than one percent of the cattle and not to exceed five percent of the herds as indicated by official testing and other approved procedures conducted under the cooperative state and Federal program.

SWINE SHORTCOURSE

The upsurge in swine production in Texas is due to be reflected in attendance at the 19th annual swine shortcourse to be held at Texas A&M University, April 6-7th. The meeting to be conducted in the Memorial Student Center, brings together leaders in research, Extension, industry and production for talks on all phases of swine production.

In addition, the 1969-70 winners of the Litter Testing Program and the Master Pork Producers Award will be presented. Programs will include information by several out-of-state speakers.

Tips From Tippet

All of think we are indispensable. Some more so than others, but at least most of us think we are somebody important.

We are important to ourselves and to our families, of course, but here is one way to see just how important or indispensable you are.

Place your hand into a bucket of water. You will notice that in less than a minute the water is calm and there is no hole left in it where your hand was.

Life itself is somewhat like that. Some of us can make quite a commotion while we are here, but after we are gone the world goes on in much the same manner.

There were 3580 people killed last year in Texas traffic, but the world moved on. They were missed by their families and friends, so if you want to be a real important watch your driving and stay alive.

Traffic accidents are caused by drivers who break traffic laws. Remember, you can't do much for this old world after you are gone. You probably have many plans, but those plans may come to naught if you break one traffic law or take one chance when driving.

Grain Inspection Changes Outlined

COLLEGE STATION

Restrictions in the U.S. Grain Standards Act have been eased to allow licensed employees of grain elevators and warehouses to draw official grain samples, according to John J. Seibert, Extension grain marketing specialist at Texas A&M University.

The relaxation of restrictions should speed up official grain inspections and increase the efficiency of grain marketing, says Seibert.

Until recently, the official sampling has been done only by employees of official inspection agencies; but now, representatives of the United States Department of Agriculture Consumer and Marketing Service may license employees of grain elevators and warehouses to draw samples of grain.

The samples will then be submitted for official inspection by a certified agency.

The new program is the "Warehouseman's Sample - Lot Inspection" certificates. Seibert says that only approved mechanical sampling equipment or other approved equipment yielding comparable results can be used; but this does not include the common grain probe used by many elevator men.

Four other inspection certification programs are being started during March. The Export Certificate is used for officially inspected grain for export and must be inspected in the United States and sampled by licensed employees of official inspection agencies.

Plastic Pipelines Solve Cattle Watering Problem

Durable, low cost plastic pipe has proved to be life saver to many cattle raisers in Central Texas.

Cattlemen have always realized that plenty of clean drinking water, in the right locations, was essential to maximum beef production. The trend toward high intensity grazing programs using hybrid grasses and hybrid sorghums has reduced the size of grazing units, or pastures, but has increased grazing management problems.

The shifting of livestock from pasture to pasture on a rotation grazing program does produce the most beef per acre but in this type program, water in each grazing unit is a necessity. Farm ponds do not always solve the problem.

Farm ponds answer the need for livestock water in large pastures where soils and sites are favorable. They do provide clean, cheap water but often can't be located in the best spots for grazing management purposes.

Soils, in many parts of Central Texas, limit the use of farm ponds. Shallow depths to rock, soils bottoming on gravel and freely permeable soils are very common in this area. This leaves many landowners without a chance of building a pond which can be depended upon to hold water.

Many local livestock raisers find that the most dependable and economical water system is one which provides a single, adequate water supply with pipelines laid to troughs set at the desired locations.

The source of water may be a large pond, a privately owned

ASCS News

By Alva E. Sanders

With the sign-up period for the voluntary Feed Grain, Wheat, and Cotton Programs almost over, many inquiries are being received on what farmers can do to help speed farm program payments.

The U.S. Department of Agriculture plans to begin 1970 farm program payments early in July and complete them by mid-August.

As soon as the farm operator certifies compliance with program provisions, the County ASCS Office will begin processing papers for the payments.

Enrollment in the 1970 farm programs is not automatic; a farmer must be signed up at the Milam County ASCS Office in order to participate and become eligible for farm program payments and price-support loans.

SWINE SHORT COURSE

The upsurge in swine production in Texas is due to be reflected in attendance at the 19th annual Swine Short Course to be held at Texas A&M University, April 6-7. Most aspects of confinement swine production will be discussed during the two-day session.

Ermelo Lovegrass Is Excellent For Pastures

Livestock producers who are planning some permanent pasture planting this spring should consider the possibility of planting some Ermelo lovegrass.

This strain of lovegrass has proven to be very flexible in soil adaptation and also in the season of use. It was first grown about five years ago in the Milam County area in the deep sandy areas in the northeast part of the county.

Now Soil Conservation District cooperators are growing it on the heavy blackland soils as found in the western part of the county.

Ermelo lovegrass is probably adapted to more different soils in our area than any other grass that we are now using.

Ermelo lovegrass is a warm season perennial bunch - type grass. It is a grass that produces green grazing earlier than most grasses.

It will grow three to four feet high and requires heavy grazing for best management. The proper grazing height is about 6 to 8 inches.

Are you going to go through another year thinking you can't afford an Oldsmobile?

Our own surveys indicate that quite a few people think an Oldsmobile is out of their reach. They think it costs a lot more than it really does. Result? Many people buy an ordinary car and end up with a lot less car and value for their money.

It's so unnecessary, too, because Oldsmobile has many models that are priced right down with the so-called low-priced cars.

So why settle for the ordinary when you can step up to an Olds and all the value that an Olds represents. Take this big, exciting Delta 88, for example. It starts out with a surprisingly modest price. Add to this the features that make it such an outstanding value—extras that are included in the modest price: □ Regular-gas Rocket V-8 □ Power Steering □ Power Brakes, front discs □ Nylon-loop carpeting □ Bias-Belted Tires □ Door Side-Guard Beams □ Hidden Radio Antenna □ Flo-Thru Ventilation □ Bigger, better riding 124" wheelbase. Check these extra values at your Olds dealer's today!

Dallas Garden Show Is 'Spring Jubilee'

Need a waker-upper with a winter-ending wallop? There's one coming - the second annual Spring Jubilee, a season-opening spectacular April 4 through 12 at Fair Park in Dallas.

This super - spring tonic, sponsored by the State Fair of Texas, is a mixture of art and azaleas, crafts and concerts, garden grandeur, a glorified garage sale, fountains and flags and floral fireworks.

Jubilee visitors and their cars will be admitted to the park without charge this year; most attractions also will be free.

The chief exception is the 19th annual Dallas Flower and Garden Show, an elaborate extravaganza with the theme Viennese Holiday. An exposition in itself, this show will have the flavor of Old Vienna, filling the world exhibits Building with formal gardens, flower stalls, statuary, sidewalk cafes and a profusion of model rooms, table settings, arrangements and other displays.

Heading the parade of free attractions are the annual Dallas Student Crafts Fair, a Spring Jubilee feature for the first time this year; the popular Artists' Market, a new Super-Garage Sale, a Kids' Parade cosponsored by the Dallas Park and Recreation Department and a Palomino Horse Show in the Livestock Pavilion.

The setting is to include thousands of pink and crimson azaleas, which should be at their peak for the Spring Jubilee, along with rows, beds and masses of daffodils, tulips, hyacinths, pansies, lantanas, copperleaf plants and green foliage.

A&M DUCHESS - Miss Jane Callaway has been selected a Duchess to the thirty-sixth annual Cotton Pageant and Ball at Texas A&M University to be April 4th in College Station. She is sponsored by the Milam County A&M Mothers Club. Jane is a senior in Yoe High School and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Callaway.

Breads Symbolic To Easter Observance

Most countries of the world observe feast days during spring; each has a religious origin. In these countries certain foods have become symbols of the holidays.

From Central and Eastern Europe have come a myriad of Easter breads and cakes. In Germany and Austria, Easter bread is baked in oblong loaves of braided yeast dough called Easter Stollen.

Golden Bread which is similar to French toast is served in parts of Ireland at Easter. In England cheese tarts are a specialty. Panettone, a delicate fruitbread, and Torta di Ricotta are two Italian Easter treats that we have come to know in America.

Other countries have contributed their favorites.

In these United States the wide variety of festive holiday breads enjoyed at Easter attests to our true melting-pot heritage. With modern adaptations of traditional recipes and an endless variety of ingredients, home bakers and commercial bakers can make holiday breads a delightful experience.

At one time any woman proud of her artistry in the kitchen scorned the used of purchased cake and bread mixes. But this has changed.

The ready-mix field has blossomed to the extent that there is a seemingly endless array of mixes so nearly perfect that many women claim they equal the finest "scratch" recipes.

Exhaustive experimentation by a number of mix manufacturers has added a moistness and flavor that early mixes did not have. Mixing time has also been cut to a fraction so that many delightful products can be hand-mixed in half a minute or so.

Teen-agers have learned that they can prepare their own foods with mixes. Many mothers have encouraged the children to help with cooking by buying mixes just for them.

Regardless of their age, creative cooks like to add their own

Cover the outside edges of the "nest" and the inside edges of entire-diver frame with colorful plastic tape. Cut rabbit neck, face and ears in one piece from a plastic fresh-meat tray; draw facial and ear features with a fabric-tipped pen. Glue neck of rabbit into hole at small end of Paas-dyed blown eggshell on which you've outlined rabbit's jacket with fabric-tipped pen. Cut hole in top center of frame; insert bit of pipe stem cleaner and bend it into place for form hanger. Hang shadow box on wall and nestle rabbit in Easter grass in "nest."

FOR THE CENTERPIECE: (Left) Cut away and discard the top and bottom of a ham can. Cover the inside and outside of the sides of the can with fabric or self-stick paper. Glue a strip of ribbon to the center of the sides and top of the ribbon with a bow. Attach modeling clay to inside base of can. Easy Last-Minute Ideas For Easter

NEW YORK (ED.)—People have been coloring eggs since 5000 B.C. and, of course, for 1970 years Easter eggs have been dyed, decorated and displayed in many ways.

Here are three quick-and-easy-to-do designs for making your home more decorative this Easter—a table centerpiece made from a ham can, a shadow box made from a frozen TV-dinner tray and a basket made from a frozen pot-pie pan.

For further information about Easter and Easter eggs, write the Public Relations Department, Paas Company, Box 377, Memphis, Tennessee 38101.

FOR THE BASKET: (Above) Cut and discard the bottom from a frozen pot-pie pan. Using clear household cement or double-sided sticky tape, attach decorated border cut from a paper towel to sides of pan. New Books At City Library

PRESENT AT THE CREATION, by Dean Acheson, Norton, $15. Even among those who have stung by his wit or bled by his logic, there are few who question the proposition that Dean Acheson has been one of the strongest, most successful American statesmen of the century. His own record of his years of public service is "Present at the Creation."

FOR YOU DEPARTED, by Alan Paton, Scribners, $5.95. Alan Paton's reputation as a writer and as a South African liberal leader is world wide. In "For You Departed" he has written a very personal book, a deeply moving account of his marriage, of his wife's death - and a celebration of their life together. A rich story told with humor, honesty and tenderness.

THE FIRE NEXT TIME, by James Baldwin, Dial Press. This short book (120 pages) is a plea and a warning - a plea that all Americans look to the true state of their land one hundred years after Emancipation - a warning of what may happen if they do not.

THE PLAGUE, by Albert Camus, Knopf, $4.95. Written with quiet and unrelenting mastery, this novel about Oran, France in the mighty grip of bubonic plague, is both an impressive story and one that must be read on another level too. It combines the fascination of a magnificently told tale with a searching analysis of the human predicament.

TAKE WHAT YOU WANT, by Faith Baldwin, Holt, Rinehart, Winston, $4.95. For her 64th novel, Faith Baldwin has given us a delightful, gay, romantic, incredible, and amusing Cinderella story.

ANDERSONVILLE, by Mac Kinlay Kantor, World Publishing Co., $8.95. A Pulitzer Prize Novel based on the author's study of the wooden stockade built years ago near Anderson Station, Georgia. There, within twenty-odd acres of habitable ground, fifty thousand men and boys captured federal soldiers, suffered, died - or survived. It is called the most tragic episode in American history - and the most glorious.

EARTH SHINE, by Anne Morrow Lindbergh, Harcourt, Brace & World, Inc., $5.75. An essay based on the Lindberghs' meeting with the astronauts just before the first flight into the orbit of the moon. She speaks movingly of the meeting between two generations of explorers and with poetic and moral imagination uniquely her own, she grasps the human implications in the scientific achievement.

FANTASTIC VOYAGE, by Isaac Asimov, $3.95. Asimov, master craftsman of American science fiction, has written a fast-paced, imaginative thriller based on the original story by Otto Klement and Jay Lewis Bidby and on a screenplay by Harry Kleiner. An adventure story that combines science and suspense in ideal proportions and leaves the reader with an unforgettable experience.

A CITY OF BELLS, by Elizabeth Goudge, Coward McCann, $5.00. A new novel by the author of "Island Magic," "A City of Bells" is laid in an English cathedral town with all its currents of ecclesiastical gossip, its amusing jealousies, its rare and mellow characters. It is the story of a young man and the people who influence his life.

A MAN FROM THE MIST, by Mary Elgin, Mill Morrow, $3.95. Catherine Lennox's unhappy marriage ended when she was twenty-one, leaving her alone, bemused, without money, but determined to be independent of her family. Through an employment agency she takes a job as housekeeper for an irascible Major with a broken leg. It is a delightful, colorful and romantic love story that reveals the Highland mists can hold tenderness as well as suspense.

Alcoa's Housing Designs Employ New Concepts

PITTSBURGH, Pa.

Alcoa was named a national awardwinner in the government's Operation Breakthrough program aimed at helping private developers find ways to build more and better housing faster and at lower cost.

Selected from proposals submitted by hundreds of competing firms were Aluminum Company of America's designs for the construction of a series of multi-family low-rise housing units employing new concept exterior walls and modular service cores.

The concepts, involving the use of Alcoa - developed aluminum load-bearing walls and a proprietary Alumifram system, which replaces wood in structural members, will be applied in garden apartments and townhouses.

All of the designs were selected by the U.S. Department of Housing & Urban Development (HUD) from a broad range of low and high-rise housing systems submitted by Alcoa.

The innovative dwellings will be constructed on one or more "Breakthrough" sites selected by HUD in 10 areas throughout the nation. Each will incorporate factory-built, three-dimensional modular cores providing essential services to two separate living units.

The modules, in conjunction with the floor, wall, ceiling and roof panels, define economical space which can be freely planned and enclosed with a variety of exterior materials.

The service cores contain the kitchens, bathrooms, utility areas, some closets and doors, and most of the heating, ventilating and air conditioning, thus providing all the high-value parts of two dwellings in a standardized package. Other components are trucked to the site and erected with minimum field labor.

Alcoa's market-oriented housing program has stressed the development of flexible systems, allowing the interchange of materials and products as required or desired in different market conditions.

By utilizing a variety of conventional materials in an efficient and economical manner, the Alcoa designs aim to reduce overall construction costs, speed and the total construction process, and alleviate the problem of unavailability of skilled workers.

Brashear

Funeral services for Gary Brashear, 20, of Beaumont, who was killed in a car accident on Saturday in Beaumont, Texas, will be held at 10 a.m. Saturday at the funeral home of Mr. and Mrs. Warren H. Brashear, Beaumont, and grandson of Mr. and Mrs. T. F. Burnett, Cameron, who had been missing since Feb. 5 when he and a companion were caught in a storm during fishing tournament at Sam Rayburn Lake. His body was found Friday, March 13, by a fisherman.

Mike Townsend, his boating companion, was found Feb. 17 when his body floated ashore. A San Augustine County Game Warden Sherman Bales said Brashear's body was found 600 yards west of an inlet at Five Fingers on the east side of the lake, about 4 1/2 miles across the lake from where Townsend's body was found.

Brashear was a guard at a chemical plant in Beaumont.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Ann Brashear; a son, Tryce Brashear; his parents; a brother, Bruce Brashear; two sisters, Beverly Ann and Judy Sue Brashear, all of Beaumont.

Kunze

O. T. (Dick) Kunze, 56, of Rosebud died in a Rosebud hospital Friday after a brief illness. Mr. Kunze was born at Cego on May 23, 1913. He lived in Rosebud before moving to Rosebud three years ago. He was a farmer and a member of the Lott Presbyterian Church.

Funeral service was held at 2 p.m. Sunday at the Hoelscher Funeral Home chapel with Rev. H. B. Streeter officiating. Burial was in the Powers Chapel Cemetery.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Hazel Kunze of Rosebud; two sons, Charles of Waco and Curtis of Houston; two daughters, Mrs. Charles DeLancey of Marble Falls and Mrs. Willie Sitz of Houston; his mother, Mrs. O. F. Kunze of Otto; five brothers, W. A. Kunze of Taylor, B. J. Kunze of Baytown, Clarence Kunze of Austin, Ruben Kunze of Conroe and Jack Kunze of Otto; a sister, Mrs. Lorene Nehring of Meridian and seven grandchildren.

Smith

Nathan B. Smith, 67, of Rockdale, died early Friday morning in a Rockdale hospital after a long illness.

Mr. Smith was born Dec. 24, 1903 in Cameron, but had lived in Rockdale most of his life. He was a retired carpenter and a member of Rockdale Masonic Lodge.

Funeral service was held at 1:30 p.m. Saturday in the chapel of Phillips and Luckey Funeral Home, the Rev. David Mindel and Rev. Millard Brown officiating. Burial was in Oaklawn Cemetery.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Irene Smith; a son, Nathan Nick Smith of Rockdale; two daughters, Mrs. Glenda Sue Young of Rockdale and Mrs. Linda Carol Gross of Houston; and three grandchildren.

Frame Helps Odd Window

A little imagination can camouflage an odd-shaped or poorly placed window and turn it into an architectural asset.

Framing it with shelving will not only improve its appearance in many cases, but will also add valuable storage space for books and accessories.

Instead of draperies, try an attractive window shade to complete the picture. Ready made screen-printed shades are available in many patterns. An easy and more economical treatment is to laminate material to the shade by ironing it to a heat-sensitive shade laminating cloth.

Width of the shelving depends on the placement of the window and other features in the room. The shelving can be a narrow "picture frame" type of eight to 12-inch boards on the top and sides of the window, or can extend up to the ceiling and out on the sides to provide more storage space.

Use any of the western lumber species, as all are easily worked.

NEW APPLIANCE SQUEEZES TRASH

A new appliance may solve the home's never ending collection of boxes, cans, bags and paper that fill garbage cans too full too fast.

One manufacturer has developed an appliance that squeezes a week's accumulation of trash into a specially designed plastic-lined bag, reports Doris Meyers, Extension home management specialist at Texas A&M University.

Under 2,000 pounds of pressure, trash such as bottles, tins, cartons and aerosol cans is reduced four and a half times in less than 60 seconds.

Use Of Wrong Tables Cause Tax Overpayment

So far this year 8,630 taxpayers in southern Texas have used the wrong tax table or rate schedule in computing their 1969 Federal income tax.

Not only have refunds been delayed but many taxpayers have overpaid their income tax as a result, R. L. Phinney, District Director of Internal Revenue for Austin, reported today.

The problem occurs Phinney said, when a married taxpayer filing a joint return uses the tax table for either married couples filing separately or for single persons. Frequently, single taxpayers use the tables for married taxpayers by mistake.

There are separate tax tables for single persons, unmarried heads of household, married couples filing jointly and married couples filing separate returns. Phinney urged taxpayers to use the right one to avoid mistakes.

Computation from the wrong tax table results in the wrong tax due. Some taxpayers, as a result of the error, receive a smaller, or larger refund and others receive a bill for additional tax.

Another major reason for refund delay is the failure of taxpayers to include their correct Social Security number, he added.

Since January, 2,296 refunds have been delayed because of incorrect or missing Social Security numbers. Other refunds are being held up for a variety of other errors or failures to follow instructions that are included with the returns.

So far, errors in arithmetic are causing delay in sending refunds to 1,198 taxpayers and through last week, there were 707 tax returns filed without signatures, including those of husband or wife on joint returns. These have to be sent back to the taxpayers before refunds can be processed.

Phinney said 275,308 taxpayers in southern Texas have received refunds totaling $56,273,000, since January.

Buckholts Baseball

By Alan Barkemeyer

The Buckholts Badgers will open their 1970 baseball campaign this year with two games against the Class AAAA Temple Wildcat B team.

The Badgers will be returning eight players from last year's club and will be adding three newcomers to the squad.

Guy Draper, Dwayne Mitcham and Rick Mendoza will round out the team. Draper, a senior, will see action as either a shortstop or second baseman, while Mitcham and Mendoza will get a shot at an outfield position.

Buckholts was 4-3 on the season last year and tied Academy for the district title with a 3-1 record. But the Badgers lost to the Bees 9-2 in the playoff game to decide the Bi-district representative.

Norman Haisler led the Badger attack last year with a .473 batting average, 14 stolen bases, and a slugging percentage of .608. Layton was the Badgers' mound ace, racking up all of Buckholts victories. He had a record of 4-1. Layton is expected to get the call to start the Badgers' opening game, also.

The 1970 Buckholts Badger schedule is as follows:

Mar. 11	Temple B	H 4pm
Mar. 19	Temple B	T 7pm
Mar. 23	Rogers	T 3pm

April 13	Jarrell	T 2pm

People

they should always stay that way

-but some don't. They run, trip, slip, skid, tumble, fall—and some even eat too much. People forget, too. Some drive too fast, climb too high, lean too far and lift too much. They forget what happened to Humpty Dumpty.

But Allen Menke can't forget. He coordinates the safety program at Alcoa's Rockdale Works. Allen feels responsible. He thinks people are great and he and all plant supervisors try to keep them that way. At Rockdale, safety is no accident. It's planned, safe practice based on tested rules and encouraged by a management which places human welfare in top priority. Allen doesn't want any Humpty Dumpties at Rockdale. Neither do we, because we think people are great and they should always stay that way.

HAWAIIAN "MINIMAX"

Our Nation's "farthest away" State has much more than pineapples and sugar to contribute to the mainland States of the U.S. and the happy islands' major gift to the rest of us may well be their "minimax" philosophy or way of life.

Helping the fellow next door is more important to native Hawaiians than personal gain, according to a study being conducted by a research team in Hawaii.

Beef Tops March Food List

Beef is in the spotlight at supermarkets this week. Stores are featuring a complete selection of steaks because they are in less demand in cool months.

Scattered specials also may be found on chuck, rib and boneless roasts, adds Gwedolnye Clyatt, Extension consumer marketing specialist with Texas A&M University, in her weekly food market report.

She adds that this week, pork prices are about the same as last week. Good values may be found on Boston butt roasts, shoulder steaks, country style ribs and some brands of bacon.

Fryer chickens are featured at some markets. Egg prices have slipped down a couple cents a dozen since last week. Large sizes still remain the best value by weight, the specialist says.

Prices are down on carrots because more are available. Cabbage is moderately priced and head lettuce, in heavy good quality supplies, carries a low price tag.

Potatoes, collard, mustard, turnip greens, dry yellow onions, sweet potatoes and celery are among the more economical choices.

First of the season asparagus is appearing on some produce counters.

Grapefruit is still plentiful and quality excellent. Oranges, bananas, apples, strawberries and pears are worthy of consideration, price-wise.

A variety of frozen vegetables will be featured in frozen good chests. More frozen fish dinners and packs are beginning to be suggested for Lenten menus.

Look for frozen orange juice, too. Actually, frozen orange juice is one of the least expensive sources of vitamin C. . . currently about 3¢ for a 4-ounce serving.

Using the term, "minimax," to sum up the Hawaiian philosophy, the researchers say that this means to minimize personal gain and maximize interpersonal harmony.

The research investigators include anthropologists, psychologists, nutritionists, teachers, and social workers. They are looking into all phases of Hawaiian culture and developing reports on family and community life, education, employment, health, and diet.

That the Hawaiian people, famous for their hospitality and "aloha" spirit, have not been altogether successful as participants in Western culture is a source of concern. To the casual observer, the Hawaiian native, now a minority of the islands' citizens, at first may appear to be irresponsible and even lazy.

Not so, say the scientists. He simply has a different set of values and incentives.

The findings of the Nanakuli study, scheduled for completion in 1970, represent a kind of research that helps to illuminate problems of significance to today's social concerns as well as to science itself.

Project For Blind To Continue

AUSTIN

A Texas School for the Blind project designed to develop a perceptual training program for visually handicapped children will be continued well into 1971 under a new $69,041 contract with the U. S. Office of Education.

The second year proposal, approved March 2 by the State Board of Education, will continue work which got underway last October at the Austin school. The new contract period will begin June 23, 1970, and continue through June 22, 1971.

Specialists in teaching blind and partially sighted children are now developing new curriculum for kindergarten through the third grade. This first stage will focus on training the senses, then work gradually into the learning process. It will cover such basic elements as differences in temperatures, vibrations, textures, geometric forms, and then continue into learning braille symbols.

Children with limited vision will be taught to make the most of what they have through working with enlarged type and learning to identify the shadow-like forms they are able to see.

Auditory training will include the intensity of sound, pitch, movement, direction, sound alignment, good listening skills. . . all the basic orientation the children will need to become more self-sufficient and mobile.

Special equipment to be funded by the contract will include a prefabricated sound proof recording room, a speech compression unit, and tape recording and duplicating equipment.
